The weight range, found on all Burton boards and in the "size chart" of each model on Burton.com, is a recommendation and fairly open, but is the best way to decide which size to ride if you don't have any idea what kind of riding you want to do (or you do it all). Riders will fall either on the heavier side or on the lighter side of the ...

~~How do I choose the right size board? — Burton Snowboards~~

Check out our binding size charts below: Men's Bindings: Women's Bindings: Youth Bindings: When it comes to sizing the biggest thing to consider is the footprint and overall bulk of your boot. If your boot has a reduced footprint and volume it may change your binding size. If you wear a Men's 8 or 10-11.5 or Women's 6 or 8, especially in Burton boots, you can go either way.

~~Snowboard Boot Sizing Chart | The House~~

The sizes that are marked K are youth/kids boots that are smaller than the adult sizes (except where they overlap - a 7K is the same as a 7 Mens) but are larger than the toddler sizing. The K sizes are the same for youth boys and girls across the board, which means that they will run larger than a girl's size in other brand shoes.

~~Youth Boot Sizing & Conversion | Burton Snowboards~~

Most customers choose their boots half a size to a full size bigger than their street shoes. Tight heel fit is desirable, you should also just feel the front of the boot with your toes when putting weight on your heel/ making a heel edge turn. Please make sure to close the lacing tight and flex your legs while trying on boots.
