~~'Poems: 1959-2009,' by Frederick Seidel - The New York Times~~

Seidel's collected poems, Poems 1959-2009 (2009), spans half a century and nearly five hundred pages. In the New York Times David Orr compared Seidel to "a violinist who pauses from bowing expertly through Paganini's Caprice No. 24 to smash his instrument against the wall ... [such a] combination of barbarity and grace is one of Seidel's most remarkable technical achievements."

I am alone with myself in my helmet of bone,
Checking for messages on my iPhone.
Now I will go back to going from here to there.
Wish me a safe journey with a nodule on one lung
Discovered in the X-ray after my body fell down.
Reader, I am the words that you are reading.
