The Man Who Fell in Love with the Moon is a 1991 novel by American author Tom Spanbauer set at the beginning of the 20th century. Told primarily in flashback by its protagonist, a biracial Native American named Out-In-The-Shed, most of the action occurs in the late 19th century in the fictional town of Excellent, Idaho, as Shed grows up, learns about his parents, and falls in love. The work is Spanbauer's second novel.

You easily identify with Thomas Jerome Newton aka The Man Who Fell To Earth. The depiction of innovations imagined for a 1980s written about in the early 1960s is fun and weirdly accurate. This is an attractive edition of the novel, presented with a thoughtful introduction. I am going to purchase further books from this SF publishing house.
